

Communication is important for happy & healthy aging!

Adults living with Parkinson's disease and their care partners are needed for a communication intervention research study. The first session will last for up to 2 hours and will occur at your home. You will complete a hearing screening to determine if you are eligible to participate. If you have hearing difficulties, a personal amplifier will be provided to you. Two follow-up appointments (1 hour each) will be completed via video call.

For more information or to sign up for this study, please contact Lisa Sommers at 413-545-4010 or lsommers@umass.edu

Come help us learn more about how best to support communication for persons with Parkinson's disease and their care partners.

Sara K. Mamo is an audiologist and researcher, and Lisa Sommers is a speech-language pathologist and clinical educator at UMass Amherst.

